LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus said today he expects to be consulted before the Democratic State Committee chooses eight candidates for the party's slate of presidential electors.

Faubus, titular head of the Democratic Party in Arkansas, told his news conference he had no personal preferences for elector candidates.

"I guess they are all the same," he added.

The committee meets here Saturday. It will name elector candidates for the Nov. 8 general election. It will name elector candidates for the Nov. 8 general election.

Arkansas Republicans named eight elector candidates at a Little Rock meeting of their State Committee last week.

The national Democratic Party has opened an Arkansas campaign headquarters for Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas as presidential and vice presidential nominees. There has been no word on whether the party's State Committee will back the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Faubus said Johnson had asked Arkansas party leaders when would be the best time for him to make an appearance in this state.

The governor said he would confer with state party chairman Tom H. Porter of Fort Smith to select a date.

On another subject, Faubus said he did not believe white residents of the Dollarway school district in Pine Bluff had changed their attitude toward racial integration.

He indicated he had not received any reports about Dollarway since the school board last week assigned a six-year-old Negro girl to the first grade of the Dollarway School.

Before the assignment, Faubus predicted there might be trouble if any integration took place at Dollarway this fall.

Faubus would not disclose what he will say to an Arkansas Education Assn. group scheduled to meet with him tomorrow to discuss proposed Constitutional Amendment 62.

The amendment provides for closing of schools faced with integration.

Way Cleared for Debates of Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress sent to President Eisenhower today legislation clearing the way for television and radio debates between the Republican and Democratic presidential candidates.

The House passed by voice vote a bill, already approved by the Senate, to suspend for the current campaign any obligation by broadcasters to give equal time to candidates of minor and splinter parties.

The Republican and Democratic presidential nominees, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy, have agreed in principle on the meetings if the details can be worked out.

The suspension of the equal time requirement also applies to the vice-presidential candidates, Republican Henry Cabot Lodge and Democrat Lyndon B. Johnson.

Family of Pilot Will Appeal to K

By STANLEY JOHNSON
MOSCOW (AP)—Barbara Powers decided today to appeal directly to Premier Nikita Khrushchev for clemency for her husband, convicted U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

"She has decided it would take too long to await the outcome of her appeal to President Leonid Brezhnev," said attorney Frank W. Rogers of Roanoke, Va.

Mrs. Powers, 25, brunette wife of the 31-year-old American flier sentenced to 10 years' detention for espionage against the Soviet Union earlier had told reporters she would await the outcome of this formal appeal before trying to see Khrushchev.

The Soviet Premier is vacationing in Lalta on the Black Sea, and just how she intended to go about seeing him was in doubt.

It is known that the pilot's father also intends to press ahead with efforts to see Khrushchev, but his attempt did not appear to be coordinated with that of his daughter-in-law. They also were reported to have disagreed on the wording of an appeal.

Lightning Bolts Kill Man, Wife

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP)—Sudden bolts of lightning killed a man and his wife Sunday.

The furious electrical storm killed Marjorie Shook, 22, then killed her husband, Robert, 27, as he ran to her body. The couple left three young children.

Mrs. Shook was visiting neighbors in suburban Linwood when the storm started.

"I've got to get home to my kids," she told Mr. and Mrs. John Chaffee. She ran out into the storm.

David Stone, another neighbor, said Mrs. Shook reached the center of the road and was trying to swim in plastic raincoat around her when the first bolt hit her.

Her husband was about 50 feet ahead on his lawn.

"He turned around and looked at her, stunned by the noise, and then he started to run back. The next one hit him before he got there," Stone said.

Seven Youths Die in Wreck in Vermont

WINOOSKI, Vt. (AP)—"When a priest comes to your house at 7 in the morning, you know something has happened."

That was how Florence McCarren, widowed mother of 11 children, learned her youngest son, Earle, 19, was one of seven youths killed in a pre-dawn automobile crash Sunday.

The accident was the worst single-car crash in the state's history.

The seven, all born in this small community in the northwestern corner of Vermont, grew up together and graduated together from Winoski High School last June.

Six were dead when state police reached the crash scene at 7 a. m. The seventh died minutes after arrival at a Burlington hospital.

Their 1954 sedan had skidded 500 feet on a rain-slicked hill at South Hero and wrapped itself around a maple tree.

Edward Foley also heard the priest's knock. His son Edward, 20, was another one of the seven.

"I answered the knock. It was Msgr. (Charles D.) Towne of St. Stephen's Catholic Church. He said he had had news about my son. I was stunned. Why, my boy's upstairs in bed, I told him. 'No,' the Monsignor said, 'your boy's nearer heaven.'"

Retired Army Lt. Col. Richard Daigle heard the news in church. His son, James, 18, was also in the car.

"I went to Mass at 7 o'clock because I always get up with the birds," the father said. "There was still 10 minutes before Mass began when an usher tapped me on the shoulder and said Msgr. Towne wanted to see me outside."

Winoski's two Catholic churches aren't big enough to hold all the mourners at a single joint service so there will be two services.

A solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered at 9 a. m. Wednesday in St. Francis Xavier church for Earle DeCarreau, Ronald Rogers, 20, and Maurice P. Soutiere, 19.

Two hours later, at St. Stephen's, Mass will be offered for Foley, Daigle, Norman E. Paquette, 19, and William L. Landino, also 19.

This voluntary Vehicle Safety-Check gives every motorist a chance to do his part in making our community a safer place to live," he said. "Even our best drivers are poor risks if they are driving cars with bad brakes, worn tires or other neglected items."

"Equally important in our safety check is the challenge to all drivers to check their conduct behind the wheel. Both safe cars and safe drivers are needed to check accidents," he declared.

Hope Jaycees announced check lanes will be set up Saturday to take advantage of the free and voluntary 10-point Vehicle Safety Checks. The lanes will be open from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. and will be operated by Hope Jaycees and Qualified Mechanics.

Cuba's Part in Americas Meet Is Challenged

By STANLEY BRADSHAW
SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Cuba's representation in the meeting of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers was challenged in an open letter today by the anti-Castro Cuban Democratic Revolutionary Front.

The challenge came from the front, formed recently by Cubans in exile, as the ministers turned to a discussion of Communist infiltration of Latin America.

The Cuban people are not represented, the organization declared in a two-page advertisement in a San Jose newspaper.

"Cuba's chair," it said, "will be occupied by an agent of the extra-continental movement that has taken violent control of our homeland."

Foreign Minister Raúl Roa heads the Cuban delegation for the session, in which that island nation may be pointed out as a Trojan horse for communism in the Americas.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro has already served notice Cuba will reject any such charge and will bitterly attack the United States, a Cuban walkout from the conference being held by the Organization of American States (OAS) is possible.

The foreign ministers turned to discussing Communist infiltration of Latin America after signing a resolution condemning the dictatorial regime of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo in the Dominican Republic. The United States joined with other members of the OAS Sunday in approving diplomatic and economic restrictions against the Trujillo regime until it makes democratic reforms.

The Dominican delegation walked out of the conference Saturday in protest against the resolution, which it termed "illegal and coercive."

The hemisphere foreign ministers are expected to proceed more cautiously in attacking Communist penetration and particularly the growing friendship between Cuba and the Soviet Union. Castro has many Latin-American followers; Dominican strongman Trujillo has few.

But diplomatic observers are predicting a strongly worded resolution condemning Soviet attempts to intervene in the hemisphere's affairs. Cuba could be indicted—either directly or indirectly—as a nation which has direct links with Soviet Communism.

State Court to Start Session

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court begins its full session Sept. 5 with 20 civil and criminal appeals awaiting its action.

Included are appeals from four men convicted in Little Rock's 1958 Labor Day bombings and appeals from Negroes convicted in Little Rock slayings.

No decisions are expected before Sept. 12, at least.

One appeal by the Hot Springs Kennel Club involves the revocation of its temporary permit to operate a dog racing track in Hot Springs.

On the criminal docket is the case of Mrs. Virginia Rand of Rogers, sentenced to an eight-year prison term for second-degree murder in the shooting of Harry V. Clark, a Rogers cat owner.

Mrs. Rand's attorney contended she was convicted on "prejudice" rather than admissible evidence, and asked for a new trial.

Sierra Blazes Threaten Points in California

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Sierra forest fires blazed out the town and Lake Tahoe areas Sunday night and exploded over 55,000 acres today. Threatened California mountain vacation resorts escaped the flames.

A fire at Donner Lake, spread from 7,000 acres Sunday to a total of 24,700 acres today. It moved 17 miles in 24 hours to within five miles of the Nevada border, a California Forest Service spokesman said.

A fire storm to the south in the Forest Hill Divide area of California raged over 30,000 acres and forced evacuation of several mountain homes. It burned all eight homes at Bath, two miles east of Forest Hill Saturday and about a dozen in nearby Michigan Bluff and the Baker Ranch community.

Fire fighters were called in from Montana, Washington, Oregon and Idaho to assist the 1,500 men at the Forest Hill and the 960 at Donner Lake fires.

Congolese Now Satisfied With the UN Plan

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Congolese government today withdrew the demands it has been trying to impose on the United Nations Congo operation.

In a sharp reversal of its previous position, the government announced it "sees no reasons to press its demands" in view of the latest Security Council meeting on the Congo.

The Security Council, in effect, reaffirmed the policy pursued by the U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld. He has been under fire by the Congolese who accused him of "blackmail, treason and plotting."

Today, in a statement which neutrals in the Congolese conflict, a Congolese government spokesman told newsmen:

"The government is satisfied that Belgian troops will be withdrawn. The government considers that the atmosphere is good."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council Sunday night overwhelmingly endorsed Dag Hammarskjöld's decision of U.N. military and civilian aid in the Congo.

There was no formal vote in the council after more than 12 hours of debate, but speaker after speaker from all regions of the world upheld the U.N. secretary-general's policy of neutrality toward the Congo's domestic disputes.

The council majestically rejected the blasts of Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba and the harsh criticism by the Soviet Union that poured out over Moscow radio and was repeated here by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov.

Hammarskjöld flew back to New York Aug. 1 seeking council support of his refusal to use 40,000 troops at his disposal to put Lumumba in control of mineral-rich Katanga province, whose Premier Moise Tshombe declared his independence of Lumumba's government. Hammarskjöld said that if Lumumba's view was upheld, the U.N. operation would have to be ended in the Congo.

Lumumba cried blackmail and demanded that the U.N. force be put under his government's control and that Hammarskjöld be supplanted by a commission from 14 African and Asian nations. Lumumba's emissary, Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga, repeated the demands in the council debate.

Kuznetsov proposed a resolution to create an Asian-African committee as a sort of overlord of the U.N. force. But as the council session neared its end after midnight, the gavel, graying Soviet official confessed he could not get the seven votes necessary in the 11-nation council to approve the resolution. He withdrew the resolution and the marathon session—second in two weeks on the Congo situation—ended without a vote.

Poland was the only council member to support the Soviet viewpoint.

There remained Lumumba's threat to throw the U.N. force out of the Congo if the council did not satisfy his demands. The Congo has been approved for membership by the Security Council but has not been voted on yet by the General Assembly.

Ron already has anticipated such a charge. He told the ministers last week that the Castro government is following its own independent line and is not a satellite of anybody.

A grave charge against Cuba—at least in Latin-American eyes—may be that it has become a dictatorship where human rights which the revolution pledged to protect are being violated.

Claims Magazine Story Distorted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Saturday Evening Post protested today that the Republican National Committee distorted one of the magazine's articles on Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The Post said a version of the article published in the committee's new campaign magazine "Battle Line" goes "well beyond the accepted rules of the game of political propaganda."

The article by Stewart Alsop, the Post said, "was an objective report of how Sen. Jack Kennedy won the Democratic presidential nomination."

"The 'Battle Line' version of the article contains a number of distortions and quotations out of context," the Post said.

"The Saturday Evening Post is by tradition Republican in editorial outlook, but it believes in objective reporting."

Eight School Districts to Integrate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eight Arkansas school districts are scheduled to enroll Negro students this fall and two others will integrate on a small scale for special cases.

The only new integration scheduled is at Dollarway on the north-east city limits of Pine Bluff, where one Negro first grader is expected to attend a previously all-white school.

The Southern Regional Council reported Saturday that Dollarway is one of four new scenes of possible integration in the South this fall.

The others are New Orleans, Knoxville, Tenn., and in Florida. The council said about 50 school desegregation cases are on federal court dockets in the South.

"If the imminent school closing crisis in New Orleans is not overcome," the council said, "or even if New Orleans treads the bitter path of Little Rock between 1957-59, the prospects will be gloomy for the South and for national self-respect."

Last year 97 Negro students attended integrated classes in Arkansas. This fall, 101 are expected to attend. The only changes scheduled are the addition of one grade each at Fort Smith and Van Buren, which are following grade-year desegregation plans.

In most of the 10 districts which will have integration, the desegregation programs have been in effect for several years. Thirteen Negroes have been assigned to Little Rock Central and Hall High Schools.

Other scenes of integrated classes are Bentonville, Charleston, Fayetteville and Hoxie, which has been holding classes for seven weeks.

The Pulaski County rural school District has integrated only the school operated on the Little Rock Air Force Base. Hot Springs has one mixed class for auto mechanics.

Negroes will be eligible to enroll in the fourth grade this year in Fort Smith and in the sixth grade in Van Buren.

Congress Has Slated week of Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two-chamber actions was slated at the cleanup session of Congress today with both presidential contenders on hand after a weekend of political activity in many quarters.

Back from a trip to the Midwest in quest of farm belt support were Sens. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, and Lyndon B. Johnson, his running mate.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, issued his thoughts in depth on communism and stayed in town over the weekend for meetings with strategists and campaign workers.

His running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, remained on duty as ambassador to the United Nations, a post he leaves Sept. 2 to enter the political campaign.

After a week of marking time for lack of a working majority, the House faced a bill to permit radio-TV debates between major party presidential candidates. The Senate continued debate on medical care for the aged.

Accusing Republicans of disinterest in farmers, Kennedy said he would take positive action to raise farm income to full parity and preserve the family type farm.

"I pledge every effort of mind and heart to do it," the Massachusetts senator told a rally of farmers from 13 states at Des Moines, Iowa.

"For nearly eight years farmers have been on the outside look-

Salesman Is Held for Slaying Wife

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A $600 a-month office furniture salesman who police said had told fellow workers he planned to bring his family to Arkansas next month was in jail today accused of strangling his wife to death in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Little Rock detectives arrested Robert Phillip Uhlmann, 36, yesterday, shortly after the body of Mrs. Gloria Mae Uhlmann, 37, was found in the bedroom of her suburban Pittsburgh home, a nylon stocking knotted around her neck.

The body was found by the couple's four children, ages 4 to 11. Pittsburgh police quoted them as saying Uhlmann came into the house about 3 a. m. yesterday and ordered them into a bedroom. They found the body when they left the room five hours later, officers said.

Police quoted the older children as saying they saw their father start to attack their mother.

Uhlmann denied having been in Pittsburgh. Little Rock detectives said, but waived extradition for his return to Pennsylvania, where he was formally charged with murder.

He told officers he had been fishing yesterday prior to his arrest. He was picked up at the office where he works.

Police said they were convinced Uhlmann had flown to Pittsburgh from Little Rock or some nearby city, then had returned by plane. Neighbors also told police of seeing Uhlmann near the house about 3 a. m. yesterday.

Detectives said Uhlmann apparently had not been seen in Arkansas between 9 a. m. Saturday and 3 p. m. yesterday, when he was arrested on the warrant from Pittsburgh. His landlady in Little Rock said she saw him Saturday morning.

His face was scratched, police said, but he told officers the marks were the result of an altercation shortly before his arrest. Detectives said he had worked here since last Sept. 1, but his family continued to live in Pittsburgh. He told fellow workers that he intended to start on vacation Labor Day to move his family to Little Rock, officers said.

Police found a 32 caliber automatic pistol and 18 cartridges wrapped in a sock in Uhlmann's briefcase.

His mother arrived in Little Rock yesterday. The mother, Mrs. Garnette Uhlmann, 68, of Kent, Ohio, had not been told of her son's arrest.

Embarrassed by His First Movie Role

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Young Harry is a handsome young actor starring in his first movie. But for him it's downright embarrassing.

He is a former editor of the Harvard Lampoon which, for years, has unmercifully rapped Hollywood's product and stars.

"The Lampoon is fair," says Harry, "because I can predict with certainty that I will get next year's worst actor award. I know that I can't miss, no matter whether I'm good or bad in the picture."

Harry, like his father, was a writer—and a successful one. Then one night at a party, producer Joe Pasternak spotted his god looks and cast him in "Where the Boys Are."

With typical Hollywood logic, the studio suggested that he hire a voice coach.

"I told my father that I was paying $15 an hour to lose my Harvard accent and he blew his top. His comment was that he had spent $15,000 to help me acquire it."

Harry was founder of the Lampoon's "Roscoe Award," first given to Elizabeth Taylor.

"I was on academic probation for a while so had to write under a pseudonym—Roscoe D. Hunge. Miss Taylor even came to Boston and accepted her Roscoe, given for 'so gallantly persisting in her career despite a total inability to act.'"

That was before Liz was nominated for three Oscars in a row. Harry also had the distinction of giving Kirk Douglas his third consecutive worst actor award.

"He's the only one who has ever retired the trophy," says Harry.

They have been seated at the second table eating bread and thin gravy," Johnson told the gathering.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, target of attacks from both Democrats and Republicans, described himself as "more or less a scapegoat" for farm ills.

He blamed problems on failure of the Democratic Congress to pass the program he has advocated. Benson told a television panel he is convinced that Republicans, under a Nixon, will move in the direction of greater freedom (for farmers) and less government regulation and control and regimentation."

The STORY: Rhode Island Red, a vicious gunman, has shot and wounded Rancher Throe, a small rancher. Brett Fasken rides up just in time to knock Red out and prevent harm coming to Throe's sister Lola.

Chapter XIII

A sudden thundering of hoofs spun Brett onto his feet. Crossing the room, he saw the kid's pistol and grabbed it up, reaching the porch just as Red, bent low, went bounding out of the yard and off through that patch of scraggly box elder that cut off the south view from where Brett stood.

Brett, swearing, shoved the gun in back of his belt and turned around.

"Got away," he said as Lola came in with the whisky. She'd fixed her dress with pins, not stopping to change. He took the strips of clean sheet from her and, considering her sideways, uncorked the bottle and held it out. "Better try some of this—"

"I'm all right."

He poked the bottle at her. "Go on." He watched her eyes. He had a nearer knowledge of her now and thought less vaguely to understand what had fetched him here.

Halfway affronted, more than a little astonished, he tried to find what about her had so deeply buried its barbs in him. A woman, sure, but any one of the dozen Brett had known had had looks and legs, all the commoner bait. Took more than these to bind a man. It had to be in her head—or in his.

He would have said there was nothing unusual about her but there was, he thought scowling, a peculiar undeterminedness, a kind of troubled reaching more felt than seen, a sort of searching all tangled with fears and compulsions that called up a nervous shaking inside him. Pretty weird but it was there, inexplicably exciting, and he knew beyond any

When she was done Brett poured on more whisky. "Let's have them strips." Fastening a compress front and back, with her help he managed to get Trone tied up.

Looking up unexpectedly Brett found her watching him. He tried a smile for reassurance but guessed, even as he made the effort, it hadn't come out right. Her suspicion had blighted it, making him as conscious of himself as she had been. "I'll take him," Brett told her, lifting Trone in his arms. "Show me where."

She went ahead of him into the room the man had come out of. Brett stripped Trone to his underwear, long-handled, unbleached, and rank with sweat.

The girl had washed and drawn a pan for him. Brett washed with strong yellow soap, used the towel she reached out to him. He looked at her briefly and emptied the pan through an open window and put it back on the table. "I should of tied him up," Brett grumbled, thinking back to the kid.

She tried to hide her unease. "Wouldn't have made much difference."

Probably not. Wasn't much anyone could have done as things stood. Brett narrowed his eyes at her, knowing he'd got part of it. This girl, like himself, had a fight on her hands; something which, desperately hidden, incalculably frightening, wouldn't let her alone. Everything she did and saw and felt was colored by it. This was the difference, the unaccountable something which had caught at him. This was what had pulled him out here.

Sure. Brett thought, she was worried about Vic. But it went deeper than that, was more personal. It went beyond Trone's trouble. The girl put up a good front but deep inside her was this terror. It was the only word that would fit what Brett felt.

She started uncomfortably to thank him. Brett brushed the

"He got out his pipe and packed it and then stood with it in his hand, unlighted. This was going to be harder even than he had figured. 'I better tell you what I've done,' he said grimly. Aid, Wage
Bill Possible

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Rules Committee deadlock on a school aid bill may be broken this week, clearing the way for action later on medical aid and minimum wage legislation.

If the stalemate continues, Democratic congressional leaders are trying with the idea of adjourning the post-convention session of Congress and blaming Republicans for the lack of results. Republicans and Southern Democrats on the Rules Committee have combined to block school aid and some other bills.

On the other hand, Republicans say that the Democrats, with their heavy majorities in both houses, are responsible for what is or is not done.

Separate school bills have passed the Senate and the House but can't get to a compromise committee without Rules Committee approval. The committee has refused clearance by a 7-5 vote, with four Republicans and three Southern Democrats providing the opposition and five Democrats favoring the bill.

Two of the seven who opposed clearance are Reps. James W. Trimble (D-Ark.) and B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn.). Among other things, they are opposed to an anti-segregation provision written into the House bill but not included in the Senate version.

The provision would bar federal aid to schools that practice racial segregation. It was sponsored by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.).

Firm assurance that that provision would be removed might clear the way for Trimble and Reece to change their votes and send the bill to compromise.

Powell declared Sunday, however, that Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee, "is on trial" on that issue. If the bill is passed without the racial provision, he told a Negro group, "then we will know hypocrisy is the rule and the law."

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) has suggested that Vice President Richard M. Nixon use his "tremendous influence" to get at least one Republican committee vote to clear the bill. Rayburn obviously feels that he can provide the additional Democrat vote.

Nixon, the GOP presidential nominee, intimated at a Greensboro, N.C., press conference last week that he may not try to persuade a Republican to change his vote. He said the Democrats were interested in passing a school bill that probably would be vetoed and accused them of wanting "an issue instead of a bill."

If the Rules Committee continues to sit tight on the bill, it will may take the same position on two other pending major measures, minimum wage and medical aid proposals.

In that case, some influential Democrats favor an early adjournment of Congress and an attempt to blame the Republicans for failure to enact legislation.

Variety of Accidents
End in Death

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fires, drownings and carbon monoxide poisoning from an automobile exhaust claimed two lives each. One person died of a beating and one was shot to death in a slaying.

Two men died in similar accidents involving falls down shafts, while trying to climb out. In both cases the victims were overcome by fumes and toppled back into the pit.

Airman I.C. John R. Price, 2, and Airman 2.C. Donald R. Brown, 22, died on Saturday when the converted jeep in which they were riding struck a tree in Jacksonville. The driver, Airman I.C. Robert E. Hopson, 30, was injured but not seriously. All were stationed at Little Rock Air Force Base.

Crocker C. Peoples, 65, died of carbon monoxide poisoning after he fell while trying to climb from a well near Clarksville Saturday. A doctor said his death was similar to that of a Fort Smith man in a shaft in Little Rock earlier in the week. Peoples had used a gasoline-operated pump in the well prior to climbing down into it to clean it.

Paul Andrew Hunter, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hunter of Camden, drowned Saturday while waiting at a swimming beach near Narrows Dam on Lake Greer.

They used riflemen, tanks and a smoke-spraying helicopter. The riflemen hurled "baseballs" which in an actual riot would contain an "irritant." An officer said he could not describe it more exactly, presumably for security reasons.

Western forces in Berlin, numbering about 11,000, have it in mind that Communist forces could try to take over by rioting started as "peaceful demonstrations." West Berlin is surrounded by Communist territory.

Mrs. Thomas Edward Hays

The First Presbyterian Church of Muskogee, Oklahoma, was the setting on Saturday, August 20 for the marriage of Miss Betty Jo Pite to Thomas Edward Hays, Jr. of Dallas, Texas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Hays of Hope. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian B. Pite of Muskogee. The officiating minister was the Rev. Donald William Ruth, D. D.

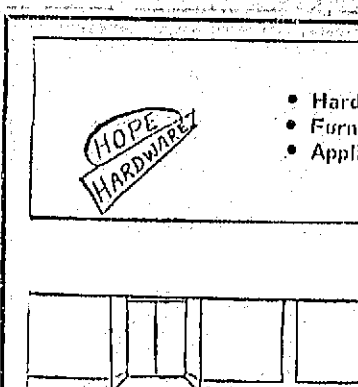

For the premarital music selections by J. S. Bach were played by Mrs. W. P. Baswell, organist, who also played the traditional wedding marches. The choir of the First Presbyterian Church sang "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" by J. S. Bach, directed by Thomas E. Nathan.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of magnolia peat satin. The tightly molded bodice was fashioned with a decollete neckline, enhanced by appliques of Alencon lace and three-quarter length sleeves. Tiny covered buttons extended down the back of the fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt, accented by pleated fullness from the sides to the back and enhanced by garland appliques of Alencon lace, swept to a chapel length train. Her veil of French silk illusion fell to her fingertips from a crown of Alencon lace, threaded with tiny seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis.

Miss Francis Pite, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Woodfolk of Owenboro, Kentucky; Miss Linda Weeks of Whittier, California; Miss Susan Bower of Muskogee, Oklahoma; and Mrs. Charles Johnston of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Each wore a gown of white silk organza over buttercup tulle. The fitted bodice was enhanced by a scoop neckline and long sleeves. Tiny Chantilly lace appliques touched the bodice. The waistline was marked by narrow organza and velvet loop belt. The full unpressed pleated skirts were waist length. They wore matching small picture hats of different colors around the open crown, and carried bouquets of white Kalanchoe sprays.

Thomas E. Hays served his son as best man. Groomsman were Bruce C. Gottwald of Richmond, Virginia; Richard L. Hunt of Shreveport, Louisiana; Julian K. Pite of Muskogee, Oklahoma; and Robert F. Brace of Dallas, Texas. Ushers were Bert Chamberlain, L. O. Barlow, Ed and Charles L. Horn, all of Dallas, Texas, and Bill Weaver of Muskogee, Oklahoma.

Showers Help
Some Crops

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Showers and thunderstorms covered most of Arkansas over the weekend, causing some damage but helping cotton and soybean crops.

Heavy thunderstorms swept over Little Rock, Texarkana, Jonesboro and other points causing temporary power failures, disrupting telephone lines and flooding low places in streets. There was no serious damage.

A Little Rock woman, Mrs. George B. Hays, 50, was stunned by lightning during the Saturday night storm but was not seriously injured. There were no other reports of injuries.

C. A. Vines, director of the state Agricultural Extension Service, said the weekend rains would help cotton and soybean crops. But county agents in southern Arkansas said the showers were too late to relieve drought conditions there. They said the moisture would help late garden crops, but would not save parched pasture.

Nine counties have been recommended for disaster aid due to dry weather.

Junior ushers were Peter Weaver of Muskogee, Oklahoma, and Larry Weeks of Whittier, California.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Pite wore a dress with angel blue re-embroidered Alencon lace bodice and matching blue pom-pom full gathered skirt. Her hat was of the same Alencon lace, and her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Hays, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of gray silk organza, complemented by gray accessories. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids.

After the wedding a reception was held in the Hotel Severs Ballroom in Muskogee. Reception music was provided by Mrs. Hubert Hauser of that city. Assisting in serving the guests were Miss Pixley McDonald and Miss Karen Cooke, both of Dallas, Texas, and Miss Winnie Guess, Mrs. James F. Stoddard, and Mrs. Jerry Mulligan, all of Muskogee.

After a wedding trip to Nassau, W. I., the couple will be at home in Dallas, Texas, where the bridegroom is an officer in the First National Bank. The bride wore a going-away costume of Dior blue silk, complemented by white accessories and a corsage of stephanotis from her bride bouquet.

Girl, 17, Asks
Age-Old Question

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am 17 and let a boy make love in the when I was 15. I have been sorry ever since. My parents do not know. I cannot go to school and must have peace of mind for an answer. Last night I was thinking about it and I would not let him. He got mad and asked if I had ever done it before. I told him no. He was proud of me. It was an easy and I would lose him and he might spread it around the community. Also, he would wait me that way too.

What should I have done? Should I tell my husband-to-be when I get engaged? I must know the answers. I worry a awful lot. —A—

Dear A: I put your letter aside to give it thought before replying because I know this is a question which troubles many girls today and must be answered with care. Your reply depends upon the boy. If he was the right kind and loved you with all his heart and soul, I would say "tell him."

No one human being should sit in judgment upon another. Jesus said, "He that is without sin, let him cast the first stone." If he could forgive, certainly we should forgive and forget. But mighty few are big enough to do so.

The question you ask was often put in Dorothy Dix's. She said, "There is nothing so heaven as for a woman to lay the burden of her sin on the shoulders of an innocent man" and "wreck his happiness by telling him something that will forever disillusion him and kill his faith in her. Lock your secret in your heart and never mention it as long as you live."

I agree. Repentance wipes the slate clean. Atonement will be complete if you show compassion for others.

Dear Helen:

My sister, 53, and I, 50, live at home with our aged mother for economic reasons. Both of us have been married and were the best of friends. Two years ago our mother had a serious sick spell but has improved. Ever since my sister has withdrawn from society. She won't go to church to see her friends—just teaches at a nursery school, comes home works, gets tired and starts complaining. Something is wrong with everyone. Recently she turned on me, calls me vile names and tells people I am immoral.

I am a teacher in the public school and must have peace of mind in order to work. I cannot ask her to leave, nor can I leave my mother. They need my financial support. What can I do to condition myself to this unpleasant situation? How can I help her straighten out her life? —B—

Dear B: There is only one way you can resolve this problem—move out. If only to a garret. It is contrary to the laws of nature for grown children and parents, or parents and children, to remain together. The saints themselves couldn't keep peace with three women under the same roof.

Dear Helen:

As a girl of 10, your column appeals greatly to me. Alice is the age for heartaches and troubles. I started dating at 17 and year ago, at first for fun. I realized it was love. We planned for a future that now will never be. I loved him so much I knew he was stopping point. Now I can't go on. He has joined the church since we broke up and wants to marry me but I don't want to. Daddy don't like him. Maybe they're right in their judgment. Should I listen to my heart or to them? —Rad—

Dear Rad: Listen to your heart only if you're sure you know what love means. It means loving the boy more than yourself. Putting his happiness before yours. Being self-sacrificing and enjoying it. Loving him for his very faults, feeling that all's right with the world when he is with you and all wrong when he's not.

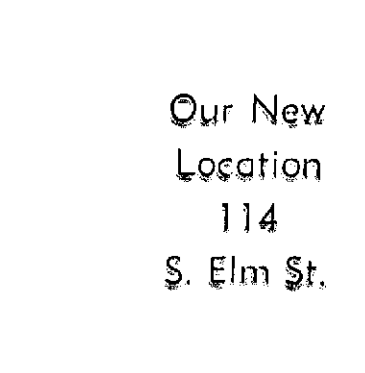

That's love. If this is the way you feel about the boy, tell your parents you want to marry him. If they have understanding, they'll agree.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper. Leaflets available. Today's special: The Talking Problem.

Orioles Might Give Thanks to Boston Team

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Baltimore's Orioles should pull off the biggest upset of the 1960 baseball season and win the American League pennant, they can thank the Boston Red Sox.

Of the 18 games played between the two teams, the Orioles have won 14.

One of the reasons for the Orioles' superiority over the Red Sox has been Ronnie Hansen.

The 22-year-old shortstop, who seems bent on capturing rookie-of-the-year honors, hit one of Baltimore's two home runs Sunday as the Orioles drubbed the Red Sox 10-4 to move into a second place tie with Chicago.

Only a game and a half behind the league-leading Yankees. The other Baltimore homer was a grand slammer by catcher Gus Triandos.

Hansen's batting average is a modest .286, but in 18 games against Boston pitching, he owns a .451 mark. Of his 71 runs batted in, 34 have come against the Red Sox.

Washington beat New York 7-4 and Kansas City trounced Chicago 8-1. Detroit swept a pair from Cleveland by the same 6-4 scores.

Milwaukee climbed to within 6 1/2 games of National League leading Pittsburgh by defeating Philadelphia 3-2 while Cincinnati was beating the Pirates 8-4. St. Louis shut out Los Angeles 2-0 and the Chicago Cubs split a pair with San Francisco. The Cubs won the first 5-3 and the Giants took the second by the same score.

Three Washington home runs ruined the Yankees. The most productive was the three-runner by Harmon Killebrew, his 21st, but the key blow was Jim Lemon's 29th, with one on, that snapped a 4-4 tie in the eighth. Bob Allison added his 13th. The victory boosted the Senators into fourth place.

Kansas City matched its biggest hit total of the season, rapping five Chicago pitchers for 17 hits as the A's snapped a 10-game losing streak. Ray Herbert permitted only three hits and got three himself in notching his eighth victory.

A Briggs Stadium crowd of 28,891, bringing the team's home attendance to 1,026,193, saw the Tigers extend their winning streak to six with their sweep over the Indians. The double loss was the sixth straight doubleheader defeat for Cleveland.

Frank Bollings' two run triple climaxed a four-run fifth that enabled the Tigers to overcome a 4-2 lead in the opener. He had six hits in the twin bill. Eddie Yost singled in two runs in the eighth of the nightcap to snap a 4-1 tie.

City Officials, Negro Leaders Point Out It's Only Pool Outside Largest Cities

Medders and Rutherford in Key Address

The City of Hope and leaders of the Negro community dedicated at 7:30 p. m. last Friday what is reputed to be the only municipal Negro swimming pool in Arkansas outside the major cities of Little Rock, Fort Smith, and Pine Bluff.

The dedication, staged on a platform in Negro City Park, on one edge of the lighted baseball diamond and close to the pool bathhouse, was attended by a large and enthusiastic crowd. Following the speeches and introduction of guests there was a bathing beauty contest with entries from all over southwest Arkansas.

Dedication Theme
The dedication theme was set by Will V. Rutherford, principal of the Yerger School System, when he told his audience:

"Here we have peace and the good things of life. Elsewhere in the world and even in our own United States, there are people who aren't so fortunate. Let us give thanks for the understanding and co-operation which have produced so many good works in our home community." Mr. Rutherford and Mrs. E. L. Hicks jointly handled the presentation of the program.

G. C. Medders, Hope city manager, told the crowd that neither his office nor the whole municipal government could produce good works like the swimming pool without the help and cooperation of all the people. The population has to co-operate, he said, to make any recreation program for youth truly successful.

The guest speaker, Roy J. Walker Jr., physical education instructor of Washington High School, Texarkana, Ark., was in which was renovated and constructed by Cayse B. Smith, Negro County Agent, and told the audience of the great strides that public recreation work has made in curbing juvenile delinquency. His remarks were seconded by Roscoe Smith, Hope Negro recreation director.

Friendly Relations

Norman Moore, chairman of the City Recreation Commission, pointed to the long and friendly relationship between the two races in Hope, cited the lifelong acquaintanceship he had with many in the audience, and said it was the ready response of the adult Negroes which had made the recreation program successful at City Park. Continued support by adults is necessary, he added for the further advance of the work for youngsters.

Others who spoke briefly were Mayor Sam Andrews and George T. Frazier of the City Board of Directors.

The program opened with the singing of the Negro National Anthem, followed by a Scripture reading and invocation by Rev. E. N. Glover, pastor of St. Luke Baptist Church.

After singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the audience, Mrs. E. L. Hicks of the Hope Civic Improvement Association made the opening remarks, and introduced Mr. Rutherford.

Miss Catherine Hicks gave a piano solo, "Melody of Love," and Mrs. Shirley Robinson sang "Sinner's Time."

The audience stood for a moment of silent prayer in the memory of the late Mrs. Fannie B. Buchanan, beloved civic leader.

Judges of the bathing beauty contest were announced as Mr. I. S. Boone, Mrs. Fannie W. H. Mrs. Joan Hawkins, and E. C. Williams.

TWO MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF THE BARBECUE MURDER

BY DONALD J. SOBEL

"Bill would have met your train himself, Dr. Haledjian," said Nora Perkins. "But since I was in town, he asked me to pick you up."

"He wanted more time to prepare the barbecue."

Bill Perkins, however, was past worrying about barbecues when Haledjian and his hostess arrived at the house half an hour later.

Nora shrieked. Her husband lay on the lawn, a knife protruding from his chest.

A hasty examination indicated to Haledjian that the killing had occurred about an hour before. He studied the scene.

A half-cooked steak lay above flameless coals banked in a stone barbecue pit. Upon an iron shelf were a tray of condiments and a long handled knife and fork.

"Who are you?" demanded Haledjian as a young man burst through the woods.

"Ed Magden. My house is about a hundred yards back there. I heard a shriek — what's happened?"

"Where were you an hour ago?" interrupted Haledjian.

"Over at the boat yard. I'd just seen my driveway when I heard a shriek," replied Magden. "Here — what's this?"

Magden pointed to a metallic object partly buried under the coals. With a quick stride, he reached the pit thrust in his hand and pulled out a charred earring.

"What's this?" gasped Nora. So suddenly her expression hardened. "Ed Magden, you hated Bill. What are you trying to do?"

"You hated him more than any-probe today.

The indictments grew out of alleged irregularities in absentee balloting in the July 2 Democratic primary.

Scheduled for trial Aug. 29 are W.C. Henderson, Bill J. Purifoy, Magde Martin and C.D. Bingers. Each is fined on $1,000 bond.
